

BRYAN AND JONES

Mr. Bickford Puts End to Report About His Position.

OF INTEREST TO LOCAL VOTERS

Republicans Have Made Capital of "Ship Subsidy" Declaration, but the Chief Local Exponent of Merchant Marine is Against Them.

All throughout this campaign it has been currently reported that the management of the Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company favored the election of the Republican nominee, presidential and congressional. Everybody here is, naturally, interested in the shipyard, and the public knows that what is for the good of the great plant is for the good of Newport News. Hence a statement or intimation to the effect that the officials of the yard believed that the election of the Republican nominee would benefit the shipbuilding industry, would tend to influence many voters of the city.

Mr. George Nelson Wise, the Republican candidate for Congress, has made capital of his stand in favor of a ship subsidy, and has charged time and again that the Democratic nominee for re-election, Congressman William A. Jones, has done nothing for the shipbuilding industry and stands for nothing that will up-build the merchant marine and make work for the local yard.

In view of this state of affairs, The Daily Press yesterday sought an interview from Mr. R. G. Bickford, counsel for the Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company.

Mr. Bickford said that so far as the shipyard supporting the candidate of any party is concerned, that would be against the settled policy of the company, and he has had no intimation from any official that there will be any departure from that policy in this campaign. Mr. Bickford went on to say that in a recent conversation, Mr. Orcutt, president of the company, declared, "I have never asked any man to vote my way, unless he shared my convictions, and I will never do so."

"Speaking for himself, Mr. Bickford said:

"I shall, of course, support the Democratic nominee, and will therefore vote for William Jennings Bryan and William A. Jones. I have every confidence in and a personal affection for Mr. Wise, but I shall keep up the fight, inside the lines."

Vanderbilt and Pictures

For its second week of vaudeville, the Bell theater has secured Peter Lamar, who is said to be a comedian and mimic of extraordinary talent.
The feature picture film tomorrow will be "A Football Hero." Several other new pictures will be shown.

Extensive preparations have been made by the management for election night. An especially good program has been arranged, and while the picture show is being given on one screen, the election returns will be shown on another. The returns will be received over a special wire running into the theater.

The usual admission will be charged for the picture show, and those who desire to see the full returns may do so by paying 25 cents. This will entitle the holder to remain during the entire evening. Return checks will be given, and these will include soda water tickets good at one of the Washington avenue pharmacies.

At Dreamland.

Dreamland offers Sprague and Dixon, comedy ringers and dancers, as the feature of the vaudeville bill for the first half of this week. The management announces that an especially good picture program has been arranged for tomorrow, and another for Tuesday.

The pictures will be changed daily as usual.

Wonderland Program.

Wonderland offers two feature pictures for Monday and Tuesday, the interesting drama, "Mountain's Revenge" and the comedy "Love's Gambit." This latter picture is said to be one big laugh from start to finish, the comedy being natural and not forced or exaggerated. It is an amusing well produced comic picture with some very good photographic effects.

Social-Personal

Mr. and Mrs. A. T. More entertained a number of friends at a Hallowe'en oyster roast last night. The affair was given in the Hotel Annex, the lobby of which had been wonderfully decorated for the occasion. According to custom, the chief feature of the decorations was an array of fantastically cut pumpkins, converted into lanterns. Mr. Moore himself superintended the task of "carving" the pumpkins and some of the results were unique and startling.

The guests were: Mr. and Mrs. A.
L. Hopkins, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Randall, Mr. and Mrs. Charles G. Bartlett, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Sprague, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Niefert, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Bailey, Dr. and Mrs. J.
Kennedy Coras, Misses Helen Leylander, Addie New, Ethel Remick and Lucille Ayler; Dr. A. C. Jones, Dr.
S. W. Hobson, Messrs. Phillip Keise-cker, Joseph Weaver, Hutson Bailey, W. W. Manville, H. Hudson, J. N.
Deer and Harold Norton.

Mr. Robert Jones, who has been visiting his mother in Denbigh Va., has returned to his home in Bluefield, W. Va.

friends.

Mr. William A. Giffert, of Tamaque, Pa., is visiting in the city.

Miss Harriet Martin, has as her guest, Miss Grace Verell, of Lynchburg.

Mr. Major Dean, formerly of Richmond, arrived in the city a few days ago. Mr. Dean intends to make Newport News his home in the future.

Miss Bernadette Kress, who has been visiting in Petersburg and Richmond, has returned to her home in this city.

Miss Virginia Nelson, who has been visiting her cousins, the Misses Nelson, of this city, has returned to her home in Chester, Pa.

Miss Gertrude Elsworth, who has been visiting in North Carolina, has returned to her home in this city.

of Los Angeles, Cal., are the guests of Mrs. Holt, at The Huston.

Mr. W. J. Nelson has as his guests his sister, Mrs. J. L. Baxley, and Master J. K. M. Newton and Henry Baxley.

ELECTION DAY FOOTBALL GAME ON THE CASINO

St. Vincent's Night School Will Meet Strong Fort Monroe
Eleven.

Preparations have been completed for the election day football game between the St. Vincent's Night School eleven and the strong team of the 12th Coast Artillery Company from Fort Monroe. The game will be called promptly at 3 o'clock, on the Casino gridiron.

The St. Vincent's boys have made a fine showing every time they have appeared. The 12th company is composed of the fastest players at the fort, and yesterday the team defeated the eleven of the 6th company. The game here Tuesday is expected to be the shapeliest of the season.

The St. Vincent's line-up will be picked from the following squad: Charles Sutton and Pendleton, R. H.; Forrest Sutton, L. H.; Joe Maloney and Benson, F. B.; H. Hamilton and Sears, Q. B.; E. Moulakone, L. E.; J.
Robinson, Payne, Brown and Copper-burg, R. E.; Huggins, R. G.; Curtis, C.; Cochran and Johnson, R. T.; Gude, L. T.; Noble, L. G.

The line-up of the artilleryists follows: Short, Q. B.; Bennett, R. E.; Gudith, L. E.; Dewey, R. H.; Pulley, L. H.; Hyrum, P. B.; Cushing, L. T.; Belcher, L. T.; Hillard, R. G.; Harter, L. G.; Cox, C.

AS MUCH NOISE AS EVER

Hallowe'en Celebrated Here After the Usual Style.

SCENE ON WASHINGTON AVENUE

Usual Saturday Night Crowd / Incremented by Hundreds of Fantastically Barbed Young People—Eagle Band
Out in Full Regalia.

Hallowe'en was celebrated here with just as much noise as ever. From dark until nearly midnight last night, Washington avenue was thronged with people, the usual Saturday night crowd being augmented by hundreds of youngsters, and some who were not so young, dressed in all kinds of fantastic outfits and making as much racket as possible, with the assistance of drums, horns, tin pans, bells, etc., and hundreds of other people who were out to see the celebration.

The climax was capped, when the band of the Eagle Engine company, in full Hallowe'en regalia, marched down the avenue playing popular airs.

There were no casualties, as far as could be learned. The people who left anything movable on their porches last night will have their troubles this morning, however.

Several enjoyable Hallowe'en parties were given.

paigned contributions before the election. It seeks to bring the government nearer to the people by securing the election of United States senators by direct vote. It seeks to restore competition through legislation which will make a private monopoly impossible. It seeks to reconcile labor and capital by legislation which will bring employer and employee together in friendly cooperation, and to this end it proposes the creation of a Department of Labor, with a secretary of labor in the cabinet; an amendment to the anti-trust law which will exclude the labor organization from the operations of that law; the limitation of the writ of injunction so that it will not be issued in a labor dispute unless conditions are such as would justify an injunction even if there were no labor dispute, and trial by jury in cases of indirect contempt. It seeks to secure legislation which will create a guarantee fund sufficient to insure all de-positors against loss. It seeks to secure reduction of the tariff by gradual steps until the tariff laws will no longer be made in the interest of the few and at the expense of the rest of the people. The Democratic party, in other words, seeks to secure honesty in government through honest politics and popular government through direct elections. It desires to secure peace in industry, competition in trade, security to depositors, and justice to tax payers.

"The Democratic party appeals to the awakened conscience of the nation and the sense of justice in the human heart and to the growing desire for brotherhood.

"With a Democratic victory for the national ticket, with a Democratic Congress, and with the moral force of a popular verdict, I believe we can compel the Senate to yield to the expressed will of the people and permit the passage of the more urgent of the reforms.

"The Democratic party offers the only prospect of remedial legislation, and while it does not go as far as some reformers would like to go, Democratic victory will secure as much of reform as is now attainable —in fact the only reform that is within reach. We have a right to expect therefore, the cooperation of those who favor the reform set forth in the platform.

"The attempt to terrorize the American voter by the threat of a panic will not succeed. We have had three panics in forty-eight years, the panic of 1873, the panic of 1893, and the panic of 1907, and two of these panics came under a high tariff, and each case came under Republican presidents. Mr. Taft says that a panic will come if I am elected. Let him give bond that this panic will go if he is elected. When he says that a Democratic victory will bring a panic he expresses an opinion. When I say that a disastrous panic came last fall without waiting for a Democratic victory, I state a fact that cannot be disputed. Our platform presents a plan for the restoration of prosperity upon a permanent basis—a prosperity in which all will share.
The Republican party has no plan that contemplates either the present relief or continued welfare of the people.

"The Republican candidate has no prestige that comes from the fact that his party is in power. He has the aid of an army of office holders; he has the support of all the monopoly and law jangling trusts; he has a large campaign fund, the source of which his committee refuses to disclose, and most of the leading newspapers are allied with him and the interests which he represents. I insist that it is not fair for the President to use his office—an office that belongs to all the people—as if it were a party asset or a personal asset and enter actively into the campaign. It offends the sense of justice and ought to arouse a protest from those who believe that in the selection of the chief executive the people should be absolutely free to choose whom they please.

"WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN."

MARCH AGAINST SIN

Throng Passes Through Tenderloin
District of the City.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—Keeping their promises, that they would follow Gypsy Smith through the streets and byways of Washington, throughout the business centers, and into the heart of the Tenderloin, more than 35,000 persons who had heard the English evangelist in Convention Hall last night marched in what will live long in the memory of those who witnessed the sight as being one of the most remarkable the city has had.

Besides those counted in the line of marching were fully 10,000 persons who trailed along at the sides of the column of fours, and still that many more who lined the streets throughout the march of more than three miles.

They are Newport News People, and What They Say is of Local Interest.

When an incident like the following occurs right here at home, it is bound to carry weight with our readers. So many strange occurrences go the records of the press: are published as facts, people become skeptical. On one subject skepticism is rapidly disappearing. This is due to the actual experience of our citizens, and their public utterances regarding them.
The doubter must doubt no more in the face of such evidence as this:

H. N. Smith, at 550 Twenty-seventh street, Newport News, Va., says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills with excellent results. I suffered for many years from kidney complaint and backache and was unable to find a remedy that would give me relief. My attention was finally called to Doan's Kidney Pills and I procured a box at A. E. G. Klor's Drug Store. They gave me relief from the first and I have not had any trouble since. This cure took place in 1902 and I am glad to say that during the intervening years I have not suffered any return of the complaint. I will gladly confirm this statement to anyone doubting its truthfulness."

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

which took in a section of the business district north of Pennsylvania avenue, from the K street entrance of the hall, where many thousands were turned away an hour before the service began, through the section of streets south of the avenue and west of Twelfth street, and continuing to the Belasco Theater, the various sections of the procession kept up a continuous melody of hymns.

Considering the great numbers who followed this former British nomad in the greatest revival movement that the city has ever seen, not even excepting the crusade held here in former years by the famous Moody and Sankey, the order which prevailed throughout the evening was noteworthy. The voices of those trailed along the edges of the great throng, together with those who were satisfied to stand and watch the determined "marchers against sin," were lifted in religious song with those in the procession. The cordon of bluecoats which led the revivalists, and other detachments who were stretched along the lines on either side, had little to do beyond several times requesting the crowds to part that the line of march might not be broken.

Half Made for Service.

It was in the Tenderloin district that the parade was halted for the longest time. At the intersection of Thirteenth-and-a-half and C streets and Ohio avenue, Mr. Smith, who was leading, turned to the newspaper men, who were directly behind him, and asked if that were not the center of the Tenderloin. On being told that it was, he called a halt, and, turning to the crowd, he said:

"Let us sing something now, and we may reach some of these poor men and women. Somebody's daughter, somebody's sister, somebody's wife, somebody's mother is in some of these houses at this moment.

"See?" he said as a light appeared at one of the darkened windows, and then suddenly flickered out. "Perhaps the one who held that light is someone's mother, or daughter, or sister, who is this night breaking her heart for a glimpse of the light of Christ.
May God help her and be merciful to her. Let us sing 'Nearer, My God, to Thee,' that she may know there is one above who cares and waits for."

The eyes of many were wet as they sang, as they perhaps have not sung for years. There were men and women standing close by, some richly dressed, others whose tattered clothing failed to shield them from the chill winds, and all were singing. It was a motley array of the city's best and the city's worst, rubbing elbows together.

Women Follow Revivalist.

As the last strains of the hymn died away and the march was resumed, while the band played "Onward, Christian Soldiers," and the foresam and jetsam of the city crowded forward, one or two doors of the houses along Ohio avenue silently opened, and several women with coats wrapped to the ears, crept out, mingled with the marchers, and followed to the Belasco Theater.

The line of march began at the rear entrance of Convention Hall, Fifth and K streets, shortly after 10 o'clock.
Mr. Smith was preceded by a platoon of policemen from the Second precinct, and was followed by the newspaper men and the ministers, then the officials, and lastly, all the others who wished to take part.

National Monotony.

Wherever you may go in England, you find the same way of living, the same kind of food, the same sort of people. Methods of cooking and dialects differ, but one never feels that sense of complete change which is the chief pleasure of crossing the Channel.—London Lady.

Today's Logic.

Men say indignantly that we ought not to be worrying about creeds; we ought to be worrying about education.

They might as well say that we must not worry about cats, because we ought to be worrying about kittens.— Illustrated London News.

Successful Flirtation.

To discourage all which may be described as harmless flirtation would be to spoil sport and put a further check on marriage. For it is "flirtation," in nine cases out of ten, that ends in matrimony.—Ladies' Pictorial.

Why Trouble About Posterity?

There is a tendency on the part of the modern man to view posterity with an indifferent eye. Posterity, he argues in the old way, has done nothing for me, and consequently there is no immediate necessity for me to trouble about posterity.—London Academy.
